ABOUT THE OFFICE

FleishmanHillard's Dallas team knows interns are an integral part of our office family. As such, you are entrusted from the start with a broad range of account work that provides value to our nationally recognized clients. Based in the heart of Dallas, our people provide the chance to create, communicate and collaborate alongside some of the most renowned talent in the industry. Interns also have the opportunity to be part of the account staff teams and assist with media campaigns, developing media materials, conducting account research and performing other account-related activities.

KEY QUALIFICATIONS AND APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Qualified candidates will have completed at least their junior year of college and will be available full time. Basic job requirements for interns include excellent written and oral communications skills, an innate curiosity, and desire to learn in a fast-paced and ever-changing environment. All candidates must also exhibit a desire and motivation to learn and the ability to work as part of a team. The internship is a paid, full-time position requiring a commitment of at least three months.
